THE POWER OF WORDS

A careless word may kindle strife;

A cruel word may wreck a life.

A bitter word may hate instill;

A brutal word may smite and kill.

A gracious word may smooth the way;

A joyous word may light the day.

A timely word may lessen stress;

A loving word may heal and bless.

Keep Notes

Sunday was indeed a good day. But, aren't they all? We are blessed to have a Father in heaven who wants us together in His house worshiping Him. We are blessed to live in a land where we can worship our God without fear from outside sources. However, many we know do not enjoy these privileges and for that we are sad. Our times of being together is for our edification. God is not One who needs our worship, but this time is good for every Christian as we face the world day by day. May nothing happen to keep us from this privilege and freedom we have in our nation.

It was good to see some back with us who have been out due to this pandemic and the concerns about this virus and its effects on us, our neighbors, and our co-workers. It is also sad to find that some of ours are sick or hurting from sickness and injuries. Keep everyone in your prayers and remember all your brethren from week to week.

Our “Phase II” effort at getting back to normal was successful. We had our additional classes meeting this past Lord’s Day and we had so many little ones who were excited to be back in class. Our nursery class up through those in the sixth grades were in socially distanced classes in the large classrooms at the end of the halls. I know our teachers worked extremely hard to get everyone taught in these newly arranged classes. I hope those numbers for those in these classes will increase in the coming weeks and that we will soon be able to return to our normal classroom setting and divided classes. But for now, this worked well, and we are thankful for everyone who played a part, from teachers, students and parents who all helped.

For all that has been happening and all who are being affected by these present-day circumstances, have you noticed how much good is being done? The joy and laughter are continuing to be heard and the fellowship continues to grow. We have so many blessings for which we ought to be giving thanks every day.
